The First Ring Leadership Academy is a nationally recognized multidistrict model for developing, sharing and supporting leadership talent. Established in 2003, the Academy has successfully identified and developed new leaders for the schools of 13 First Ring suburbs of Cleveland, Ohio that are faced with challenges of poverty, transiency, racial and economic diversity and the achievement gap.

In the U.S. Department of Education's publication Innovative Pathways to School Leadership the Academy has been recognized as a best practice site.
